Superintendent

RUSSELL A. DAVIS

I want to congratulate the graduating class of 1969 on their many successes, as a group and as individuals. Even though you have all felt the sting of defeat and of failure at various times in your life, so also have you tasted the sweet fruit of victory and of success.

No person goes through life without some failure; the failure in itself is not bad for it indicates that something was attempted. What is bad is to allow failure to rule your mind; to think that always you will fail. Rather learn from the failures and achieve through the learning.

Be not afraid to fail, for to be afraid of failure is to be afraid to try. It is evident to me that those who try are those who will reach their goals and achieve success. I urge you to try, to fail, to learn, to succeed and to enjoy the process.

Year 2000

Here we are in beautiful downtown Athens; in Greece, of course! I am Nancy Porter, your hostess for this flight and your host is Bruce Peterson, owner of this elite airline, which he has just purchased from Aristotle Onassis.

We are now leaving on board flight number 456 from Athens to New York.

We arrive just in time for Vickie Leffler's 25th Anniversary showing. Vickie is celebrating twenty-five consecutive years as the world's top fashion designer. Her feature model is Vonda Beebe.

From here we go to Boston by Rolls Royce. We see Kon Glee play with the Boston Celtics. Needless to say they won. Before we left Boston we took in a concert and were surprised to find Trish Bosley the lead singer.

We have a long scenic trip from Boston to Detroit, Michigan, where we find Mike Evans as President of the Ford Motors Corp. He tells us that Terry Morehead and Dean Tidyman are travelling throughout the country wrecking cars as fast as he can make them. They work as Dare Devils. Dean drives and Terry pays for all. Watch out all you safe drivers! Also in Detroit we find Janet Vapenik and Marjory Walker working as processors for the Betty Crocker Corp. From there we travel to Holland, Michigan, which happens to be the tulip capitol. Here we find Gary Brush who is a leading tulip farmer. Just before we leave Michigan we stop in to visit Duane Fortkamp who experiments in the crossbreeding of ducks. His latest development has been a new breed of duck called "Super Ducks."

We have a long drive from Michigan to Hayes Center, where our old high school used to be. Here we went to see Craig Nelson, who is running his Mousetrap factory with quite some success. While at the factory, he filled us in on the latest news in the old home town. He told us Jerry and Bev are happily married and sending their children to school where they are taught math by Gordon Karre. Craig also says that Allen Dold is busy keeping the roads up, as he took on the position of county commissioner. As we were leaving, the phone rang and Craig related some fantastic news. The former Patty Jeffers just surpassed her goal of thirteen children by one. Congratulations!

We jump a plane for Wyoming, where Connie Buffington and Steve Messersmith spend a lot of time rodeoing. They say that Jack Gier is a prominent sheep rancher in the Jackson Hole area.

After stopping by to see Jack, we went to Montana and found Jim Broz owning what seems to be half of the state, with Ron Repass being his private vet.

After spending time in the cold country, we decide to soak up a little sun, so we flew to California. At the airport we saw a dazzling and eye-catching ad. We were so stunned that we had to find the origin of such a masterpiece. We were informed that it was one of Carolyn Brown's works. She is the best-known commercial artist in the country. We were also told that Peggy Matticks was her private secretary.

Then, odd as it may seem, we saw Lonnie Loomis walking through the terminal and asked what he was doing. We had heard that he was a computer technician. He said he had been, but automation just replaced him; we offered our condolences and went on our way.

A couple of days later we flew to Washington, D.C. on our way home. Here we found Bill Johnson as Speaker of the House, which really never surprised us much. He told us that Leland Reimann, our former class sponsor has finally made it to the White House. There is only one drawback; it's only in a janitorial position. Keep trying Mr. Reimann!

Doris is Chief of Staff at Walter Reed Army Hospital, where she is now taking care of Mr. Reimann. It seems he had a slight accident; when he opened his broom closet everything fell out upon his body. Hope you're feeling better, Lee!
